2. Downtown Plan Update.

Joanna Winter, Planning & Building planner, went over outline of report. The preliminary plan is up for review to obtain community feedback and create a final draft by 2020. Report is over 200 pages and commissioners are encouraged to visit the official link and view full report.

The purpose of Plan. This preliminary draft plan is an initial version of the Downtown Oakland Specific Plan, describing transformative ideas and recommendations that connect the community’s downtown goals to potential strategic actions. The preliminary draft plan shows the relationship between the community’s desired future for downtown and existing conditions today. Given the rapid changes Oakland is undergoing, there is an urgent need to evaluate the city’s existing regulations, policies, and programs to ensure sufficient support for downtown residents, businesses, artists and employees, some of whom are being displaced as this planning process is underway.

The Plan is organized by six topics:
1) Economic development
2) Housing and affordability
3) Mobility and connectivity
4) Cultural keeping
5) Community health
6) Land use and urban form

Next phase is to conduct community meeting and consolidate comments for a final plan, and they expect there will be a lot of demands on this plan. Commissioners are encouraged to attend public hearings in Feb 6 and 13.

Questions followed re how to we get a new main library to serve the new development growth? Where does a new library fall into plan? Director Turbak mentioned that in 2006, the Library prepared a master plan for a new main library at the Henry J. Kaiser as part of a proposed ballot measure which did not pass. The Library currently has Measure D for improvements to branches, and also develop a new master facilities plan in the future.

Planning can put something in the plan for hopes of a new library. Commissioners are invited to attend planning meetings to give their input. The Commission reached a consensus to submit a letter to Planning and Building to consider a new main library site for the Downtown Plan.

3. Arguments for Building Branch Libraries in Underserved Areas: San Antonio / Hoover

Commissioner Cook, who is also Chairperson of The Friends of the Hoover Durant, gave overview of project. The Hoover neighborhood had a library branch (North Oakland Branch Library) located at 3424 San Pablo Avenue. There was also a Telegrove Branch housed in a much smaller storefront on 34th and Grove Streets. The branches were closed in the early 70’s, and there is a need to restore service in this area. Potential sites for a branch library are: 3000 Market Street (27,911 sqft); 2810 West Street / Marcus Foster School (29,200 sqft). The Hoover/Durant Friends were established and met with previous library director Gerry Garzon numerous times. The group is seeking funding ($22M), help from community and advocates for support and work; a grant researcher, book donations. The Friends operate on mini grants to support this effort and operate a pop-up street corner library around the neighborhood. The group plans to meet with city and school officials, as well as foundations and private corporations. Upcoming fundraiser event is March 16; tentative date for street corner library is Feb 16.

The LAC commended Commissioner Cook and the Hoover Durant Friends for their tremendous effort on this project.
